Draw

Art. 10: All participants in the 1st round must be present in person for the draw on 26.08.2025 at 16:00 at the Haus der Musik Innsbruck.

The order of performance for the 1st round will be determined as follows: The youngest participant will draw the name of another competitor in the presence of all other participants. This person will perform first in the first round. The remaining participants will follow in alphabetical order according to the last name of the first person drawn.

The order of performance for the 2nd round will also be determined by a draw, following the same procedure as in the 1st round.

The performance order for the final will be determined by the Innsbruck Festival.

Program & Performance Guidelines

Art. 11: The competition consists of four rounds: Preliminary Round, 1st Round, 2nd Round, and Final, followed by the awards ceremony. Information about the repertoire requirements can be found in Article 14.

- Preliminary Round (digital)
All participants must submit a video or audio recording as part of their application, featuring a Baroque aria performance. The performance may be accompanied by any keyboard instrument or ensemble. Admission to the 1st Round is based on the evaluation of this recording. Participants admitted to the 1st round will receive a written confirmation of participation via email by 21.06.2024.
- 1st Round (In-Person)
This round takes place in person in Innsbruck. All participants will perform a prepared aria of their choice. They will be accompanied by a répétiteur on the harpsichord. The performance time is limited to five minutes. After the conclusion of the 1st round, the selected participants for the 2nd round will be announced.
- 2nd Round (In-Person)
This round takes place in person in Innsbruck. The participants will perform two arias of their choice, one of which must be from the 17th century. They will be accompanied by a répétiteur on the harpsichord. The performance time is limited to ten minutes.

- Final (In-Person)
This round takes place in person in Innsbruck. The participants will sing an aria from Georg Friedrich Händel's "Atalanta" and another compulsory piece from the repertoire list. They will be accompanied by an orchestra.

The 1st and 2nd round, as well as the final, are open to the public.

Art. 12: The Innsbruck Festival will provide a répétiteur for the participants during the 1st and 2nd round. A brief rehearsal (10 minutes per participant in the 1st round and 20 minutes per participant in the 2nd round) will take place before each performance. A schedule will be provided after the drawing. The designated times must be adhered to without exception. Participants who do not follow this rule may be disqualified from the competition.

If a participant is accompanied by their own répétiteur, the preparation times on the harpsichords are limited to 10 minutes in the 1st round and 20 minutes in the 2nd round, just like for all other participants.

Rehearsing on the harpsichords in the competition hall is not allowed. However, the participant's own répétiteur can practice on the harpsichord in the competition hall without the participant, after prior consultation with the competition office.

Art. 13: In the application form, the participant must specify the planned program and its order. Any changes to the program must be communicated to the Innsbruck Festival in a timely manner. After 31.07.2025, no changes to the program or its order will be allowed.

Art. 14: The competition program consists of arias and / or solo scenes. If an aria is preceded by a solo recitative, it must also be performed. This applies particularly to the compulsory arias and must be strictly followed.

For the aria selection, please note: In the live rounds (1st round, 2nd round, and final), each aria may only be performed once. Only the aria submitted in the preliminary round may be repeated in one of the live rounds.

- Preliminary Round
The video or audio recording must include an aria or solo scene. More detailed guidelines for selecting arias are provided below.
- 1st Round
For the 1st round, participants must prepare an aria or solo scene, with a maximum performance time of five minutes. More detailed guidelines for selecting arias are provided below.
- 2nd Round
For the 2nd round, participants must prepare two arias or solo scenes. One of the selected arias / solo scenes must be from the 17th century. The choice of the second aria / solo scene is free, provided it meets the criteria listed below. The two arias must be performed within a total time of ten minutes.
- Finale
In the final, participants are required to present an aria from Georg Friedrich Händel's "Atalanta" (a = hz 415 Vallotti) and another compulsory piece from the repertoire list (see altemusik.at/cesti). If no compulsory arias from "Atalanta" are listed for a particular voice category, the participant must choose a compulsory aria from a different Händel opera for that voice category instead. It is allowed to perform compulsory arias from a different voice category.

The following applies to the arias that can be freely selected:

Only arias / solo scenes from operas, oratorios and secular cantatas are allowed.

The selected arias / solo scenes must be by composers who were active between 1600 and 1750. Arias by composers who were predominantly active during this period are also allowed, even if they were composed outside of this time frame.

For example:

- a = hz 440 Bach-Lehmann: Claudio Monteverdi, Pietro Antonio Cesti, Francesco Cavalli, Antonio Sartorio, Giovanni Legrenzi, André-Ernest-Modeste Grétry, Bernardo Strozzi, Carlo Pallavicino, Tarquinio Merula, Luigi Rossi
- a = hz 415 Vallotti: Henry Purcell, Antonio Vivaldi, Johann Adolph Hasse, Georg Friedrich Händel, Georg Philipp Telemann, Giovanni Battista Pergolesi, Nicola Antonio Porpora, Antonio Caldara, Leonardo Vinci, Alessandro Scarlatti, Giovanni Bononcini, Francesco Gasparini, Antonio Lotti, Tomaso Albinoni, Agostino Steffani, Jean-Philippe Rameau, Jean-Baptiste Lully, Geminiano Giacomelli, Christoph Willibald Gluck, Riccardo Broschi, Antonio Lotti, Francesco Bartolomeo Conti, Carl Heinrich Graun, Johann Gottlieb Graun, Niccolò Jommelli, John Blow, Pasquale Caffaro, Marc-Antoine Charpentier, Domenico Cimarosa, Reinhard Keiser, Johann Mattheson, Alessandro Melani, Francesco Provenzale, Giovanni Alberto Ristori, Pietro Torri, Antonio Mazzoni, Carlo Francesco Pollaro

Works by other composers from the specified period (1600 - 1750) are also accepted, as long as they meet the above-mentioned criteria. In this case, participants are required to choose the appropriate pitch for the respective work (415 hz Vallotti or 440 hz Bach-Lehmann).

The arias / solo scenes must be sung in their original language, from memory, and in their original key.

Art. 15: Each participant will present their program without interruptions in all rounds. However, the jury reserves the right to interrupt the participant's performance early during the 1st and 2nd round.

Evaluations

Art. 16: The evaluations are conducted according to established principles and procedures.

Art. 17: The decisions of the jury are final and cannot be contested.

Art. 18: Participants who have been in a student-teacher relationship with a jury member within the last two years must disclose this to the Innsbruck Festival. In such cases, the jury member will be excluded from evaluating the participant. The same applies in the case of a family relationship between a participant and a jury member.
